

ALSA Red Cross International Humanitarian Law Moot Applications

The Australian Red Cross and the Australian Law Students Association (ALSA) are hosting the International Humanitarian Law (IHL) Mooting Competition during the annual ALSA Conference. The year, the competitions component of the ALSA conference will be taking place online.

The IHL Moot's purpose is to raise awareness of international humanitarian law issues within the Australian university community. The Moot assists students in understanding and appreciating the growing importance of international humanitarian law, its nature as a system of protection during times of armed conflict and its role as a fundamental part of international law.

The UTS LSS will be sending two UTS law students to represent UTS in this competition.

To register your interest for the IHL Moot, please click here.

You must register individually although you may indicate your preference for specific teammates.

Please see ALSA IHL Moot rules here.
Further information can be found here.
Please see the UTS LSS Selection Policy here.

Applications close 28 May 2020 6pm.

Successful candidates will be notified by 4 June 2020 and will be required to confirm their commitment to compete as expediently as possible.

Please be aware of the timeline for the IHL Moot:

May 15th - 20th: Problem, Pro Forma and Rules will be released and posted on the ALSA website.

June 22nd (5 PM AEST): Written Memorials due. Any memorials received after this time are subject to penalty.

July 5th: Draw released for preliminary rounds

July 10th - 12th: Preliminary Rounds

July 13th: Quarter Final (Top 8 ranked teams will be announced on the night of July 12th)

July 14th: Semi Final

July 16th: Grand Final & Awards Announcement

Leadership Through Service hours

Successful candidates who go on to represent UTS in the IHL Moot are eligible to receive between 40-60 Leadership Through Service (LTS) hours for the Brennan Justice and Leadership Program.

If you have any questions, please contact Milena Mitic at secretary@utslss.com